

GOLDSTEIN & MIGEL

WEEK OF WONDERS
REDUCTIONS ROUTED,
PRICES PULVERIZED,
THE PUBLIC PLEASED & PUZZLED.
PRESENTED TO THE PEOPLE OF WACO.

The best $1.50 Jersey ever sold, our price $1.00.
The best $1.50 Shoe ever seen, our price $1.00.
Best $1.50 Corset, this week only $1.
Best $1.50 Ladies' Night Dresses, only $1.00.
12 Yards Best 10-cent Domestic, only $1.00.
10 Yards Best 13-cent Cotton Flannel, only $1.00.
20 Yards Good Cotton Flannel for $1.
5 Best 25-cent Towels for only $1.00.

GOODS MUST GO.

Prices no object, Profit no consequence. We consider our Winter business at an end, and are determined to clear our shelves for spring arrivals. Buy now and buy largely.

Thursday & Friday Only.

Special Drives in Table Clothes, Table Covers, Bed Spreads, Lace Sets, Ties and Curtains.

165 Pair Boys' and Misses' Shoes, worth $1.00, at only 50 cents a pair.
20 Pieces Fancy Velvets, worth 60 cents to $1.00, at 25 cents a yard.
100 Pieces Ribbon, worth 10 cents a yard, at 3 cents a yard.
100 Pieces Ribbon, worth 25 cents a yard, at 10 cents a yard.
50 Pair 10-cent Gloves, at only 5 cents a pair.
100 Pair 25-cent Cashmere Gloves at 10 cents a pair.

PRICES GOOD ONLY FOR TIME ADVERTISED

GOLDSTEIN & MIGEL.

THE CLOSEST CUT PRICES IN TEXAS.

CITATION.

THE STATE OF TEXAS,
In the District Court, March Term, A. D. 1889.
To the Sheriff or any Constable of McLennan County—Greeting:
You are hereby commanded, that by making publication of this Citation in some newspaper published in the County of McLennan for four weeks previous to the return day hereof, you summon H. G. Kneebauer, whose residence is unknown, to be and appear before the District Court, to be held in and for the County of McLennan at the Court house thereof, in Waco, on the first Monday in March, 1889. His name being given, then and there to answer the petition of Mrs. S. Kneebauer, filed in said Court on the 11th day of January, A. D. 1889, against the said H. G. Kneebauer, and alleging in substance as follows, to wit: That marriage in 1869 in Tennessee; his cruel treatment; his threats to take her life; his assault and battery upon her; his failure to support her and their children, and his cruel and unprovoked abandonment of her, and praying for divorce, etc.
Hearin said not, but have you then and there before said Court this writ, with your return thereof, showing how you have executed the same. Witness, Z. F. BEASLEY, Clerk of the District Court of McLennan County. Given under my hand and seal of said Court, in Waco, this 11th day of January, 1889.
Z. F. BEASLEY,
Clerk District Court of McLennan County, Tex.

Livery Stable.

Messrs. Molder & Hearn who bought out the livery stable of Riggins & Green, have been busily engaged in rearranging and making additions to that large establishment. These gentlemen are thoroughgoing livery stable men, with abundant capital and will give a new impulse to the business if knowledge and money can do it, making their place one of the most complete in the state. They will run an extensive boarding establishment, a large hack and transfer line, and in saddle horses and driving outfits, young gentlemen will find animals and rigs to make a young lady's heart glad. The Messrs. Molder & Hearn are nice obliging gentlemen, and have set out to run a livery stable in first-class style, and are going to do it. All those in need of a nice rig should go to them. Telephone connection enables them to answer all calls promptly.

Removal.

Mr. Sam Novich, the well-known dry goods man of Waco, has removed his store to a larger building, from the old stand to the building formerly occupied by Stephenson, Tibbs and Steiner's furniture house, south side of Austin street, between Third and Fourth. He will be pleased to see his old customers and many new ones. He has a fine large stock of fresh goods bought at a bottom market and will not be undersold by any of his competitors. Give him a call.

Notice.

I have purchased the entire business, known as the Central City Iron Works, corner Seventh and Franklin streets, and the firm heretofore existing between Briggs & Westor has been dissolved. I will continue the business, and do all kinds of casting in iron and brass, and do a general repairing business, such as engines, boilers, etc. Thanking patrons for past favors, and by strict attention to business, hope to share the same in the future.
J. WESTER.

Merchants: Merchants!

First-class merchants will take stock at this season of the year, and all goods not fully up to the standard will consign them to I. C. Meek's Commission and Auction House, 318 Austin street.

The queen of tragedy to-night plays the chief of all Walter Scott's characters, "Meg Merrilies."

School for Dancing.

Mr. J. Mook, from Memphis, Tenn., will open a select school for dancing, at Edith Block, corner 5th and Washington streets. First lesson for gentlemen Wednesday evening, January 16th at 8:30 p. m. First lesson for ladies and children Saturday, January 19th, at 3 o'clock p. m.

The new meat market of Haun & Dollins, 721 Austin street, is under full headway and doing a first-rate business. The proprietors are well skilled in the business and are serving their customers with the very choicest meats to be procured. They take a pride in selling the very finest porterhouse and sirloin steaks, fat and tender roasts from corn-fed beef, with the choicest pork roasts. Customers who are fastidious about their meats should give them a call, as they sell the best, and at reasonable prices.

Housekeepers buying goods for the holidays will consult their own interest by buying of Chas. Raab. He has cords of butter, eggs and chickens, fresh and nice, at bottom prices, being the leader in those lines, and has all the fine Christmas grocery goods, besides a brand new stock, bought since the fire. He is making a special drive on fine fancy candies, of which he has the largest and finest stock in the city, at discount prices.

Col. R. B. Parrott has been appointed state agent for the Provident Savings Life Assurance Society, of New York. This company declares the largest dividends of any company reporting to the New York Insurance department, consequently gives the largest amount of insurance for the smallest amount of money.

For fruit or ornamental trees, call on J. H. Hurwood, at EVENING NEWS office, Franklin between Fourth and Fifth streets. ASPARAGUS roots by the hundred or thousands.

If you want a fine livery turnout patronize Molder & Hearn's, north side of the public square.

For a nice clean shave, good haircut, and polite attention, call at Jeff Williams' barber shop on Austin Avenue, near the square.

Fires will come. E. Fitzhugh will insure you. Office with John T. Battle, 124 South Fourth street.

Patronize Molder & Hearn at the old Grand stable north side public square.

Sears' sure cure for catarrh is the best. 425 Austin street.

Take your oysters at the Silver Moon.

New crop Louisiana malasses extra fine at Joe Thompson's.

For fresh Boston chips, all colors go to Joe Lehman's restaurant.

All prescriptions carefully compounded at J. E. Sears, 425 Austin street.

Coal and wood, Geo. W. McLaughlin, prompt delivery.

The latest society dances at Mr. Mook's select Dancing Academy, corner 5th and Washington streets.

Starting the New Year

Bargains in Hosiery

Profits Actually Obliterated.

Dress Goods at almost half the former Prices. Gent's Furnishing Goods Marked Down to the VERY EDGE OF PRODUCTION.

SPECIAL BARGAINS IN CORSETS AND LADIES' UNDERWEAR.

A. S. HABER.

The Road Question.

Editor Evening News—

It is with the hope that at some time in the future we may be able to have better road law, and better roads that I still desire to agitate this most of all important subjects for the people of Waco and McLennan county. Under the present law we have but little to hope for, and why? The county judge informs us that the present levy for road and bridge purposes is only ten cents on the one hundred dollars assessment, and it takes four cents of that to pay interest on county bonds, leaving only six cents to the hundred for roads and bridges, or in other words, only seven thousand eight hundred dollars for the whole county. I give in this as assessment of $13,000,000 for the county.

The State law allows county commissioners to levy fifteen cents on the one hundred dollars assessment. We are decidedly in favor of the commissioners levying all the law allows them, but they tell us the people will then complain of heavy taxes. Where is the good citizen who would complain to pay twice that much if the money could be used on our roads? I for one would say "lay on McDuff and be damned who cries hold, enough," until our roads are made passable.

The present road law of Texas is absolutely odious, and until something better is offered to the people we may expect to stick in the mud. We believe our legislature will give us something better. It looks bad to me to see a road boss warn out a lot of men with shovels and hoes and do nothing but a little hen scratching. A man is not obliged to work his team unless he wants to. But what is the remedy? Levy a poll tax of two dollars on every voter and a tax of twenty-five cents on the hundred assessment, and let out the road and bridge work by contract as you would the building of a house or barn, and let every county work its convicts on the public roads. One of the greatest drawbacks to the betterment of our roads is "the how to do it."

It costs too much to shed, gravel, macadamise or "hay" the roads—or will grading do? No. For instance, the Hamlett lane has been well graded at a cost of eight hundred dollars, and is considered the worst road near Waco. Tiling is the only solution of the whole road problem, it is the only scientific method of thoroughly draining the land. Every agricultural college in the land teaches it to their students. England, Ireland, Scotland France and Germany have re-claimed their swamps and bogs with it. Michigan, Wisconsin, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Missouri, Kentucky and other states are putting down thousands of miles of it every year to drain their wet lands and roads. It has never failed to perfectly dry land where it has been properly placed, and of the right size. If any reader doubts the assertions here made please write to any of the United States engineers or the faculties of any of the agricultural colleges, or to any of the state engineers of Illinois, Wisconsin, Michigan, Indiana and Ohio. Now, are you interested in this great road problem for Texas? If you are, then investigate the tiling system and you will have no other plan to suggest for its solution, because it is ten times cheaper than any other, and where it is done it is done for all time. What makes a bad road is too much water on and in the soil. Now, if you can get rid of this surplus water you have a good road, and tiling placed three and a half feet under the road bed will carry off all this surplus water and leave the ground dry. "Then if 'tis well 'tis done, then 'tis well 'tis well done." Waco and McLennan county has lost enough the past year on account of bad roads to have tiled at least fifty miles of her worst roads. If something is not done to make better roads soon, more empty business houses will be seen in Waco than ever before. If roads were good the city would be full of country people all the time, because they have an abundant of farm products to market, and are anxious to buy many things from the city. Then let us urge the commissioners to levy all the tax the law allows, and put in good condition, at least, a few of the worst roads over the county. Try, at least, one mile of tile to demonstrate its utility. The cost will not be over six or seven hundred dollars. Yours for better roads.

SOCIAL.

Entertainment Last Night on Columbus Street.

The festivities of a season which has been unusually gay culminated last evening at the hospitable residence of Mr. and Mrs. Judge Geo. Clark, on Columbus street. The social diversion which for some weeks has kept Waco society on the edge of expectation was distinguished alike by the number of guests, elaborate costumes, elegance of decorations and a princely menu. Mrs. Geo. Clark, the lovely hostess of the occasion, exhibited all the skill of social strategy and added new laurels to the reputation of an entertainer by the perfection of a thousand details, omitting nothing which could anticipate the pleasure of the honored guests, or fail to leave an impression of the night as of the memory of a fairy tale twice told. The parlors and anti-rooms and dancing rooms were profusely decorated with green foliage and cut flowers, giving a touch of spring time and the time of violets to the capacious house. Alcoves and bay windows were suggestions of mossy banks and wild thyme, while in the dining rooms a sumptuous banquet and rare wines, served by skillful attendants, awaited the pleasure of the guests, all night long. The guests were received by Mrs. Geo. Clark, Mrs. R. B. Parrott, and Miss Adelle Steiner, of Austin, a belle of that city, who has just returned from Europe. They were assisted by Judge Geo. Clark and Mr. C. R. and Mr. J. P. Johns of Austin, brothers of the hostess, and Master Erwin Johns Clark. Mrs. Clark was attired in costume, a la Marie Antoinette, of lavender moire silk, en train, trimmed with Duchesse lace and diamond ornaments, lilac flowers. Miss Adelle Steiner wore a costume from Worth, of Paris, rose colored silk, brocade with silver and gold, decolette and sleeveless, with pearl ornaments. Mrs. Col. R. B. Parrott was robed in black velvet, half pompadour, brocade and with diamond ornaments, and Master Erwin Johns Clark, a lovely little fellow of three and a half years, who assisted in the honors with the sapience and dignity of age, was attired a la Geo. Washington.

There were a number of character costumes. Miss Nettie Rotan made a lovely Josephine, in a costume of ivory white satin, over brocade skirt. Miss Mary Bailey Thompson, wore white crepe and tulle, decolette and sleeveless, diamond ornaments. Mrs. Walter Fort, costume of same material, en train diamond ornaments, and Mrs. Tom Padgett, white and black silk, diamond ornaments, with others representing court ladies of the days of the empire. Becker's orchestra discoursed fine

JONES & GOODLOE

407 AUSTIN AVENUE

MEN'S AND BOYS' FINE CLOTHIERS

HATTERS AND FURNISHERS,

Sole Agents for the Dunlap Hats.

Leather Valises a Specialty.

JONES & GOODLOE

music the night through, and at three in the morning the last guests left one of the most recherche and brilliant events of the year. The following is a list of the honored guests:

Forster Fort,
T. A. Crawford,
W. H. Cameron,
J. M. Connor,
L. P. Davis,
J. B. Downs,
John Dockery,
G. B. Gerald,
J. H. King,
Ed. North,
Geo. Pierce,
M. C. Parks,
Harris Pickles,
John Smith,
W. C. Watson,
Dr. R. Brown,
Dr. J. R. Ferrell,
Dr. W. O. Wilks,
W. A. White,
Jack Harrison,
Rev. W. DeHart,
E. H. Graham,
Gen. A. G. Rifel,
Jas. Irwin,
J. T. Davis,
Tom Dockery,
J. Mallin,
H. Bisher,
Dr. Saunders,
W. M. Steeper,
C. R. Johns, Austin;
Jas. Potts, Dallas;
Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Downman,
Mr. and Mrs. F. A. McDonald,
Mr. and Mrs. Claud Hamilton,
Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Fort,
Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Seely,
Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Caldwell,
Mr. and Mrs. Lee Cotton,
Mr. and Mrs. Judge Walker,
Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Cameron,
Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Rodland,
Mr. and Mrs. Col. B. B. Parrott,
Mr. and Mrs. John Marshall,
Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Gerald,
Mr. and Mrs. R. I. Munroe,
Mr. and Mrs. Tom Padgett,
Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Brooks,
Mr. and Mrs. C. C. McLoughlin,
Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Bollinger,
Mr. and Mrs. John G. Winter,
Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Lee,
Miss Steiner, Austin;
Mrs. Gabriel Jordan,
J. T. Davis.

AFTERNOON NOTES.

The great Januabek at The Garland to-night.

The mud is deep, but every drop of rainfall adds to chances of this year's crop.

The Jas. Askew stock is being moved two doors below the Palace saloon.

The subscriptions to the canning factory and to the creamery amount to over $7,000. Consultations are going on and it is likely that the two will be united. The machinery or motive power of one, it is thought, will do for both. The establishment of one or both in Waco is hardly a question of doubt.

Dr. N. J. Wortham died last night at the residence of his son-in-law Mr. W. F. Montgomery at the ripe age of seventy-two. The remains were taken to Bosqueville to-day at noon, and the funeral will take place there this evening. Dr. Wortham was one of the pioneer settlers of McLennan county, coming here at a very early day, and has resided in the county ever since. Engaged in farming and in his profession, he closed a life of great activity and usefulness, and his loss will be felt. Dr. Wortham was a good man and universally respected.

The mills are now turning out fine flour and it is creditable to manufacturers and consumers to know that Waco flour mills are supplying 4-5 of all the flour used in the county. Before the mills were built, all the flour consumed here came from the north, now that trade is almost entirely kept at home with immense advantage to the county. A market is furnished for the farmers wheat, and the mills employ a considerable number of hands whose wages are spent here and go to make up those small but steady amounts of trade which build up communities. The Waco flour mills are home institutions and the product they turn out will challenge comparison with any flour in the world.

The waywardness and folly of a young man smoldering under the sense of some fancied wrong intensified by liquor, plunged an estimable family into alarm and grief last evening and came near ending his life at the same time, by taking a dose of morphine with suicidal intent. He seems to have been brooding all day till finally he drove down town and going to a drug store purchased a bottle of morphine. Stepping into a saloon on Austin avenue he asked for a glass of water with which he washed down nearly a spoonful of the morphine. Fortunately the druggist who had sold him the poison had his suspicions aroused by some remark he made on leaving the store and the druggist followed and kept a watch on him. He entered the saloon just as the young man had swallowed the poison, and conducted him to his father's store, when after two or three hours work by physicians, he was partially recovered from the effects of the dose and was conveyed home. He is better to-day, though badly shocked, and will soon be out again. It is hard to tell which is most to be pitied the poor misguided boy or the parents weeping over him.

PERSONALS.

Mr. Jas. Potts, of Dallas, is in the city.

Mr. Allen Hall, of Dallas, is in the city.

Mr. C. R. Johns, of Austin, arrived here yesterday.

Miss Adelle Steiner, of Austin, is visiting Mrs. Geo. Clark.

Mr. J. H. Shope and bride came in this morning over the Central.

Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Barton have returned from a visit to Georgia.

Mr. D. E. Hirschfeld and bride returned yesterday from Mexico.

Mr. W. M. D. Cox, of the Western Newspaper Union of Dallas, is in the city.

Miss Lizzie Miller left for Dallas, her home, to-day, leaving many friends to grieve at her departure.

Mr. I. P. Peck has resigned the presidency and management of the Waco Furniture company to devote his time to other business interests.

The intelligent farmers of the Robinsonville neighborhood, supply James R. Robinson daily with the freshest and best county butter, poultry, eggs etc. You will find it to your interest to buy your supplies from his house, No. 105 South Third street.

The stock of goods of Mr. Barney Feldhake is to be sold at auction Jan. 28th.

Mr. D. H. Spencer, the piano and organ dealer of Waco and Central Texas, is expecting in daily from Boston, a specimen Parlor Grand Piano, which when it arrives the public will be notified and invited to call and see. The new piano will be a delight to artists and lovers of music.

I will sell Saturday Jan. 19th the entire stock of merchandise formerly owned by Mr. Perry, at auction commencing at 10 o'clock, at 318 Austin street. I. C. Meek & Co.

D. H. Spencer will sell you a fine instrument, first-class on the installment plan, $10 per month on pianos and $5 per month on organs and charge only a reasonable price for them.

Parties desiring board will consult their interest by calling at the Silver Moon.

Dancing school for ladies and children. Open Saturday at 3:30 p. m., in the Edith Block.

Fish and game of all kinds, at the Silver Moon.

If you want fresh taffy candy go to Joe Lehman's south 4th street.

Call on G. W. McLaughlin for wood and coal.

The finest Mince Meet in the land Joe Thompson's.

Go and see "Meg Merrilies" to-night.